

Calling translators and interpreters of the future

PG Studies and Careers in Translation and Interpreting

Wednesday 6 March, 14:00-15:00

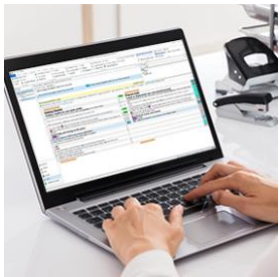

Michael Sadler 1st floor, Martin Thomas Translation Labs

The Centre for Translation Studies (CTS) offers a range of programmes in translation and interpreting studies. Come along to this introductory session to hear more about each of our MA programmes, what you will study, and where a postgraduate qualification in translation and/or interpreting could lead you. The session will be led by CTS staff and there will be plenty of opportunities to ask questions. You can then attend as many of the dedicated programme-specific taster sessions below as you wish.

Please register here <https://forms.office.com/e/dgBiEJPfGh> or scan the QR code

MA Applied Translation Studies

Find out about postgraduate study and careers in applied translation and try out specialist translation software!

Wednesday 6 March, 15:00-16:00

Michael Sadler 1st floor, Martin Thomas Translation Labs

Join translation technology lecturers from the Centre for Translation Studies for a hands-on taster session with computer-assisted translation software and to discuss careers in translation and explore the changing landscape of the translation industry.

Register here <https://forms.office.com/e/nF3r3yC6fx> or scan the QR code

MA Conference Interpreting and Translation Studies

Find out about postgraduate study and careers in conference interpreting and have a go in an interpreting booth!

Wednesday 6 March, 16:00-17:00

Parkinson 2nd floor, Interpreter Training Facility 1 (ITF1 2.12)

Staff from the MA in conference interpreting will give an overview of the profession and discuss the skills and training that interpreters require. Should you wish to do so, there will be an opportunity to try interpreting in a booth.

Register here <https://forms.office.com/e/x4cgfhxBUf> or scan the QR code

MA Audiovisual Translation and Localisation

Find out about postgraduate study and careers in audiovisual translation and have a go at subtitling and dubbing!

Wednesday 6 March, 17:00-18:00

Michael Sadler 1st floor, Martin Thomas Translation Labs

Join subtitling, dubbing, accessibility, and localisation lecturers from the Centre for Translation Studies for a hands-on taster session to discuss careers in audiovisual translation and explore the diversity of the localisation industry.

Register here <https://forms.office.com/e/6smV7t6vYC> or scan the QR code

